

Web Designer / XHTML / CSS ninja

Location: Toronto, Ontario (Liberty Village)
Compensation: TBD: dependent on experience
Status: Full Time
Start Date: Immediate

Are you a creative/coding genius with an eye for detail and knack for creating pleasing online user experiences? Do you have the ability to also produce clean well designed webpages using CSS? Are you a problem-solver, able to formulate sound information architecture? Are you an advocate for Web standards with expert knowledge of HTML and CSS development? Do you enjoy building eye catching, crisp clean, intuitive browser based experiences. Are you good at leading developers and ensuring your design standards are properly implemented?

Filemobile offers a unique environment focused around creating a fun open and flexible work environment where your ideas are welcome. You will be working in a fast-paced, skilled, team environment and will be responsible for designing and coding XHTML/CSS for our client sites. You have a solid understanding of [X]HTML, CSS, and JavaScript, as well as AJAX and are always looking for the best way to do something.

Samples of your previous work are required in your application. Failure to provide samples will result in your application being rejected.

Filemobile enables next generation user generated content, social networking and broadband video services for Canada's top media companies and brands. We are a Toronto based, start-up company with a strong management team. Visit our site for details: www.filemobile.com.
